Becky Noel started with the Tucson Police Department in November, 1996 in patrol. She re-started the Crime Free Multi-Housing Program in 2003, after her department ended the program in 2002 due to budget cuts. She became a full time coordinator in 2004. She currently teaches 4 Phase 1 classes in Tucson, where people all over the southeastern portion of Arizona attend. Becky became the Executive Director of the International Crime Free Association in 2010. She currently sits on several boards in Tucson dealing with women, children and homelessness. She teaches Personal Safety where she is frequently asked to speak to various large groups, retirement facilities, The Deaf and Blind school, home care nurses, etc. Becky volunteers with TROT (Therapeutic Riding of Tucson) which helps children and adults with different handicaps to interact with and ride horses. She also volunteers her time as her HOA treasurer.
