

Phil Maben is beginning his 5th year with the University of Arizona Athletics Department, his 4th as Director of Development. He is responsible for identifying, cultivating and securing major gifts for the Wildcat Club, as well as developing and maintaining relationships with a number of current Wildcat Club members. Additionally, he manages the Athletics Department's Courtesy Car Program as well as the Basketball Scholarship Row seating.

During Maben's time at Arizona he has been an important part of two major capital campaigns undertaken by Arizona Athletics, the $30 million Phase 1 of the McKale Center Renovation Project, and the newly constructed $7.5 million Ginny Clements Academic Center.

Maben joined the Wildcat Club Staff in 2013 as the Development Coordinator of Donor Services where he oversaw all benefits, donor trips and solicited annual gifts under $1,000.

Maben's prior employment includes stints at the Tiger Athletic Foundation, Louisiana State's Athletic Department and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas where he held various development positions. Prior to his career in development, 10 years ago, he started his career in athletics managing the Hillenbrand Aquatic Center in the role of Assistant Aquatics Director.

A native of Inglewood, California, Maben moved to Tucson with his family when he was young, which is where he considers home. His career crossed paths with his wife's, Brandy Maben, Arizona Swimming & Diving Assistant Coach & Recruiting Coordinator. Phil and Brandy have two children, their daughter, Collins, and son, Miles.

Maben earned his BS in Sports Management with a minor in Business from Louisiana State University and his Masters in Educational Leadership from the University of Arizona. He is an Honorary Letterwinner at the University of Arizona and Louisiana State University.
