

Dave has spent the last 30 years helping leaders focus on their future and their strengths. His career has included time as a leader, manager, consultant, change agent, educator and mentor. Leading some of the largest outsourcing programs in the corporate real estate industry has allowed him a unique exposure to leadership and change management as well as the inner workings of corporate America. Clients have included institutional, corporate, municipal and private entities, such as Austin Energy, Microsoft, PMC-Sierra, Pitney Bowes, California Federal Savings, Pacific Gas & Electric, United States GSA, Comerica Bank and Southern California Edison.

Dave was an Alliance Director for CBRE Trammell Crow Co., Global Services. His insight comes from 30 plus years of experience in real estate, consulting, and training. As a consultant, he focuses on leadership development and organizational structure. Hewett has worked in all aspects of the real estate and facilities industry. He's managed operating and capital budgets in excess of $100 million annually and responsible for building operations, construction, corporate real estate, brokerage, development, and strategic planning services.
